Comment Another splendid walk through tranquil wooded Surrey countryside. Crosses historic Betchworth Bridge. This is sheep and cattle country so be prepared for many stiles.

WALK INSTRUCTIONS

With 'The Dolphin' on your left, go on down the road (there is a parallel path up by the wall on your right). Follow this down to a sharp left turn over Betchworth Bridge. Cross with care as it is very narrow. Immediately over the bridge turn right off the road through a metal kissing gate and walk away from the road on a clear path along the field edge to a wood.

Follow the path into the wood, down then up to a further kissing gate into a field. Turn right in the field to follow the hedge on your right for a few metres. At a corner of the hedge turn left away from it, diagonally across the field to stile at the far side onto a road. Do not cross but continue down the field edge with a hedge and road beyond your left. Pass a cottage over on your left and reach another stile. Cross this onto the road. Turn right on the road.
